SQL Sentry Announces South African Partner Iridium Software Solutions Delivers Unique Expertise to Region

CHARLOTTE, April 30, 2007 – SQL Sentry, Inc., the developer of award-winning management solutions for Microsoft SQL Server, announced today the addition of Iridium Software Solutions to their Partner Program. Located in Durban, KwaZulu Natal, South Africa, Iridium has achieved five years of continual growth serving clientele throughout the region. Members of the SQL Sentry Partner Program have a demonstrated expertise in SQL Sentry software products and the critical role they play in optimizing high performance corporate data environments.

“We are pleased to introduce Iridium Software Solutions as our Partner.” said Peter Shire, Director of Channel Sales at SQL Sentry. “Their staff has unique expertise and knowledge on Microsoft SQL Server and Oracle products within corporate IT environments. Iridium’s membership in our Partner Program now allows them to deliver additional services and benefits to their clientele, including increased uptime and performance for their database servers, and quicker response to critical conditions via advanced alerting and self-healing capabilities.”

“SQL Sentry Event Manager enables our clients to maximize the return on their investment in SQL Server and Oracle,” said Dereck Ramsay, Managing Director of Iridium. “Event Manager allows their DBAs to strategically manage their job schedules in a fraction of the time that the native tools require. Plus Event Manager enables them to better schedule, manage and monitor their critical backups. We look forward to growing our business by leveraging the unique capabilities of SQL Sentry software products.”

“The SQL Sentry Partner Program provides unique benefits, support and new revenue opportunities to organizations selling SQL Server related services or products. The addition of Iridium continues to expand the global footprint of our Partner Program into an important growing region. It is noteworthy progress toward our goal of local representation and expertise in the most economically vibrant areas of the world.” said Peter Shire, Director of Channel Sales at SQL Sentry.
